Webmaster's Choice

Web users may be interested in "Webmaster's Choice", a new menu item that has been added to each page on the IRTS web site. This menu points to a page of links to a small number of external web sites that are felt to be of specific interest to Irish radio experimenters. The page will be updated from time to time.

The new menu item is in the "Links" section of the www.irts.ie web site, which continues to include "Radio Theory" links - as mentioned in this bulletin - and "Other" links to a wide range of relevant web sites.
